WINTER SCHOOL 2021 Program

Agripolis 28/01 - 29/01- 02/02 2021 (Room 15, Pentagono building)

Thursday 28	9.00 -10.00 AM	Reviewing a scientific manuscript is pivotal to write papers (Prof. Lorenzo Marini)
	10.00-3.00 AM	Teams at work PhD students will be grouped into five teams and will receive a scientific paper to be evaluated. Before the start of WS, each component of the team will receive a paper. Each student will review the text, assessing experimental plan, scientific data and results and discussion. Moreover, flaws and strenghts should be listed. Finally, each PhD student will propose a recommendation (accepted, minor revisions, major revisions, rejected). PhD students will interact within each group to share their recommendations. An Editor will be available to support discussion and manuscript evaluation.
Friday 29	9.00 A-11.00 PM	Teams at work Each team together with the Editor has to propose a final recommendation to be presented and justified to the scientific community of WS2021 using Power Point slides.
	1.00 -3.00 PM	Oral presentations by each team Discussion
Tuesday 02/02	9.00 - 11.00 AM	Teams at work Change the role Each group will work on Monday 1 st February by virtual meeting in order to answers as authors to the questions raised by a panel of Reviewers on a submitted paper. The final output will be a Response to Reviewers file which will be filled and completed on February 2 nd On Monday 01/02 each group will work (in remote) on a paper as author instead of reviewer. In this case will be required to produce a document in which will be reported the answers to the criticisms posed by a reviewer panel. A Power Point presentation will be useful to the following section. On Tuesday will be finalized the final document as powerpoint.
	11.00 -1.00 PM	Oral presentations by each team Discussion
